June 2016

Dear Maggie,

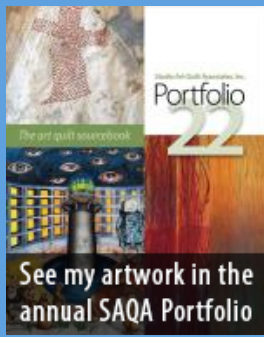

I hope you are enjoying this gorgeous spring weather and have had lots of time to stitch and create beautiful art these past months.

I have had so much fun teaching and speaking to guilds and groups since the last time I wrote. I sincerely appreciate your interest in my work and love the times we share in the classroom and during my lectures. Many thanks to all the guilds who have invited me to work with them!

Well, there has been extreme excitement in the studio lately. I am delighted to announce that my book arrived here TODAY from the publishers. After spending many, many months writing the words, taking the photographs of the work, planning the layout, editing and re-editing, it is amazing to think that I can now hold an actual 96 page hardcover book with my name on it! Yahoo!

Stone Threads

Many of you asked me to write a book over the years, and so I finally did it! I really hope you enjoy it. I can't tell you how much your encouragement has meant. Thank you, thank you, thank you.

Stone Threads will be officially launched at CQA/ACC's Quilt National Conference June 14-18. This event is held at the International Centre near Toronto's airport.

I am planning a local - Fergus/Guelph - book launch for late summer. I will let you know the details.

I'll be signing books and selling hand dyed and painted fabric at booth #240. I look forward to seeing many of you there.

For those of you not attending the CQA Quilt National Conference and who have already expressed an interest in purchasing my book, by late June Stone Threadswill be available for sale on my website, which has recently under gone a major renovation. Please bear with us while we make much needed changes and get things organized so I can distribute Stone Threads on-line. We are getting there! I needed to actually have it so I could then weigh it to sort out shipping costs, among other things to do!

This is also the place to learn how to hire me to teach and speak to your group.

There are lots of new blogs of classes and travel photos at:

My fantastic husband Fred Meredith has been incredibly supportive of my career, and I deeply appreciate his belief in me. I am also deeply grateful to the energy and design skills of Alyssa Light and Blaire Rennie at the Profitable Innovator for helping my dream of becoming an author come true.

And again, I am so thankful to all of you for sharing this exciting textile art - stitching - quilting journey with me.

Hope to see you soon. Take care.

Stitchfully yours,

Maggie Vanderweit
